Mrs. Silas Porter entertained guests at a small, informal luncheon today at her home in Western avenue, complimentary to Miss Mary Shepherd of Connecticut, who is visiting Mrs. A. T. Daniels.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Quinton gave a box party at the Grand theater Friday night to see Maude Adams. Their guests were Mrs. Charles Brooks Thomas and Mr. Armin Fassler.

Mrs. J. S. Brandenburg of Oxford, Ohio, who used to be Miss Margaret Johnston of Topeka, has written home the district in which she lives was not flooded, but the overflow was so near that she and her friends have been busy doing relief work among the sufferers. She writes that five babies were born in a nearby church, and little Billy Brandenburg, whether the ingly or unwillingly, was made the sacrificial agent for all of his outgrown baby clothes, and all others that could be spared from his wardrobe, were made to serve the newly arrived, and other homeless, suitless children.

White cotton ruffe was used for the gown shown in this drawing and a smart touch is given by the narrow yoke, collar and girdle of black silk. The top of the collar is finished by a ruffe of wide, fine lace, producing a becoming softness about the face. Pearl buttons trim the blouse and cuffs, which are of the material. The narrow skirt is laced at the front side seams for the length of a foot below the waist with a black silk cord and tassels. This lacing is also utilized at the center back seam. Black chip hat with novelty feather.

News has been received in Topeka of the engagement of Miss Anna Brown of Philadelphia, Pa., and Mr. John Nipps of Denver. Mr. Nipps was a student in Washburn college a number of years ago, where he graduated a few years ago, and his friends among the college people will be interested in the announcement of his engagement. He is now doing Y. M. C. A. work in Denver, and it was there that he met Miss Brown, who is a traveling member of the students national committee of the Y. M. C. A. and has lately taken up Y. W. C. A. work.

Mrs. W. A. Johnston has returned from St. Louis where she attended the meeting of the suffrage conference of the Mississippi valley states. The St. Louis Globe-Democrat for Thursday, in reviewing the meeting, publishes a picture of Mrs. Johnston and an account of her address, as well as the speeches of other Kansas women who attended. Mrs. Johnston of Wichita, Mrs. Genevieve Chalkley of Lawrence, Mrs. Magdalene Munson of Pittsburg and Miss Helen Eucher of Lawrence, were among the speakers. Mrs. Del Kelsor, of Kansas City, formerly of Topeka, was a delegate from Missouri. Mrs. Johnston stopped in Leavenworth on her way home to visit Mrs. C. C. Goddard.

Miss Gladys Kappel gave a dinner party Friday night at her home in Elmhurst, complimentary to Miss Lillian Stephenson, who will be married April 16, to Mr. W. C. Carswell. The decorations for the dinner table were spring flowers, jonquils and daffodils, and the place cards were in the shape of little umbrellas. Flowers were given as favors, and the gifts of each member of the party to the guest of honor, were silver souvenir spoons. Those who sat around the table were: Miss Stephenson, Miss Grace Stephenson, Mrs. J. A. Howes, Mrs. T. E. Sheard, Miss Annis White, Miss Isabel Dechuden, Miss Florence Dechuden, Miss Emma Ruppel, Miss Mildred Haseg, Miss Agnes Ray, Miss Elma Beal, Miss Verna Phinney, Miss Blanche Dodge, Miss Gail Moody and Miss Kemper.

The vespers service at Grace cathedral for the next six or seven weeks will be of special interest to all music lovers. At each Sunday service the choir of some composers will be emphasized. The list of composers will include Stainer, Barnby, Haydn, Handel, Palestrina, Mendelssohn, Gounod and Myles Foster. The composer selected for next Sunday afternoon at 4:30 is Sir John Stainer. The soloists will be Miss Sarah Kouns, Miss Eleanor Logan, Miss Marguerite Gihke, Mr. Herman Springer and Mr. Glenwood Jones. There will be a full chorus of about thirty voices. Stainer's cantata, "The Daughter of Jarius," will be rendered in full. The following is the program: Processional, "I Could Not Do Without Thee"; Choral Service, "Tallis Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis"; Cantata, "The Daughter of Jarius"; Offertory, "Bow Down Thine Ear"; Soprano solo by Miss Gihke; Kneeling hymn, "Holy Father Cheer Our Way"; Stainer's "Holly Ghost"; Program of "Daughter of Jarius"; Organ prelude; Chorus, "In That Day Shall the Lord of Hosts"; Soprano recit, "Behold These Cometh Unto Jesus"; "My Hope Is in The Everlasting"; Chorus of women, "The Walling"; Chorus, "In the Death of a Man"; Recit and chorus, "But When Jesus Had Put Them All Out"; Soprano and tenor duet, "Love Divine"; "Tris and chorus, "To Him Who Left His Throne."

Members of a box party at the matinee to see Maude Adams Friday, were: Miss Metta Robinson and her guests, Mrs. D. W. Mulvane, Mrs. Harrison Morgan, Mrs. George Fleishman, Miss Bess Campbell and Miss Irene Horner. Mrs. Harry Pierce, of Junction City and Mrs. Fred Hemingway, of Junction City, also had matinee box parties.

Mrs. E. S. Marshall recently received a letter from Mrs. Anna L. Diggs, formerly of Topeka. Mrs. Diggs has been in New York a number of years, but has now gone to Detroit, Mich., to make her home. She has been critically ill, but she writes that her health is greatly improved and that she is now able to resume her work in the public welfare movement. She is chairman of the educational bureau of the Social Center Association of America. Her friends in Topeka will be interested to know of her change of residence and the improved condition of her health.

Here are the latest fashions which will appear on fashionable women of this summer:

Fig leaf green; Sands of the desert red; Dirty brown; Peacock blue; And any other color that mother nature can furnish.

Insurgency against conventional color dictations of the passing period has arisen, and the great changes outlined in the color announcements of Jacques Worth of Paris, have appeared in this country.

We are daring to use colors as they appear in nature, the colors of the butterfly, the birds and the flowers are being used boldly.

Skirts are to be tight and slit up to the ankle. The waist line is high and the sleeves are not to be made of opaque or transparent material. The Bulgarian blouse will be another innovation.

The Child Study club will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Edwin O'Neill, 1417 Buchanan street. Miss Caroline Morton will give a lecture on the subject: "Chemistry of Foods for Children."

Mrs. F. W. Daugherty gave a theater party at the Peter Pan matinee Friday, for guests whom she is entertaining at the weekend party. The guests were: Mrs. George W. Rigby, Mrs. W. H. L.
